[PHASE 03 · FROM KAI]

THE REAL WORK.

Newbie gains are done. Good. That means you built the base. Now the real work starts. 5 days, heavier compounds, actual bodybuilding methodology. Progress will be slower — that's normal and expected. Trust the process and the data.

[KAI · DIRECT]

"You made it here. That means 12 months of consistency. Most people quit in week three. You didn't. Now we take everything you built and we push. Progress will be measured in months, not weeks. That's fine. That's how real bodybuilding works. Trust the data."

[WHAT CHANGES IN PHASE 03]

THE SHIFT.

CONCEPT	WHAT IT MEANS
5 days instead of 4	More volume = more stimulus. Your body can handle this now. It couldn't at month zero.
Heavier compounds	Deadlifts enter the program. Bench and squat weights increase significantly. Respect the lifts.
Dedicated V-taper day	Day 5 is entirely lats + shoulders. This is where your silhouette gets locked in.
Slower progress is normal	Newbie gains are gone. 1-2lb of muscle per month is excellent. Don't panic. Don't change everything.
Periodization matters more	Deloads, progressive overload, and managing fatigue become critical at this stage.
Data is non-negotiable	If you weren't tracking before, start now. You cannot navigate advanced programming without data.

[PHASE 03 · MONTHS 12-24 · THE WORKOUTS]

Tricep Skis	4 × 10-12	3-1-2	Elbows locked at sides. Full extension every rep.

DAY 3 — LOWER HEAVY

EXERCISE	SETS & REPS	TEMPO	NOTES
Deadlifts	5 × 3-5	Form focus	Brace hard. Drive the floor away. No ego lifts.
RDLs (light)	3 × 10-12	2-1-2	Back off weight vs Day 1. Eccentric focus.

DAY 5 — BACK + SHOULDERS (V-taper day)

EXERCISE	SETS & REPS	TEMPO	NOTES
Lat Pulldowns	4 × 8-12	1-1-3	Mid-width grip. Controlled eccentric. This is V-taper HQ.
Chest-Supported Rows	4 × 5-10	1-1-2	Chest on pad removes cheating. Pure back work.
Lateral Raises	5 × 12-15	1-0-2	Width = masculine silhouette. Your secret weapon.
Shoulder Press	5 × 10-15	1-0-2	Full range. Don't lock out — keep tension on the muscle.

[KAI · DIRECT]

"Day 5 is sacred. Lats and shoulders are what make you look like you lift. Never skip it. Never half-ass it. This is the day that changes your silhouette. Every lateral raise rep is an investment in the body you're building."

[ADVANCED PROGRESSION · PHASE 03]

HOW TO KEEP GROWING.

Newbie linear progression is over. Here's how to keep making gains when progress slows down.

SITUATION	WHAT TO DO
Progress stalled 2+ weeks?	Don't change everything. Add one set to your weakest lift for 3-4 weeks, then retry weight.
Feeling beaten up?	Mandatory deload. One full week at 50-60% volume. Non-negotiable. You're not going backwards.
Hit top of rep range?	Add 5lb for big lifts (bench, deadlift, squat). Add 2.5lb for smaller lifts (curls, extensions).
Joints aching?	Deload immediately. Reduce weight 20%. Check your form. Ego is how you get injured.
Plateau lasting 4+ weeks?	Implement a 2-week specialization block — extra volume on the lagging muscle group only.
When to test your 1RM?	Every 8-12 weeks maximum. 1RM testing is taxing. Don't make it a regular habit.
